

At the Sholley Insurance Agency, we want to take a moment and connect with you directly as the COVID-19 “Coronavirus” continues to impact our clients, our employees, and our community. We hope the following information will be helpful to our clients in the weeks to come.

We are dedicated to updating our clients on preventative practices and preparedness plans recommended by the CDC. The Federal Government is developing programs to assist companies in dealing with the financial impact of the pandemic. These may include payroll tax-relief, disaster relief loans, negotiated waiver of copays and coinsurance with health insurance companies, and legislation providing protections for employees. Stay up to date with these development by visiting www.usa.gov/coronavirus.

The Small Business Administration produced resources and guidance for businesses and employers to plan for and respond to the Coronavirus. This valuable website provides links to the CDC on how to prevent the spread of the disease, resources available through the SBA, and other agencies that can provide information and assistance through this crisis. This information can be found by accessing www.sba.gov.

The Insurance Institute for Business & Home Safety created a beneficial toolkit to help business owners prepare and plan for business continuity in times of natural and man-made disasters. This toolkit is available at www.disastersafety.org/business-protection/ofb-ez.
