Ways To Limit Your Data Exposure

When you install an app, you automatically agree to its terms and conditions. But you can limit unwanted data collection by knowing what to look for:

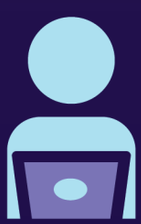

Trusted apps

Only download trusted apps from reputable app stores like the Google Play Store or Apple App Store.

Customer reviews

Research reviews and ratings for reliability and customer experiences with the app.

Developer reputation

Check the developer's reputation through a quick internet search.

App privacy policy

Read the privacy policy before downloading an app to understand what you're agreeing to.

Device's privacy and security

Check your device's privacy and security settings to see which apps share your location and other data.

Encryption

Make sure all your financial apps have encryption.

Device access

Limit access to your device's camera, microphone and location to each instance the app opens.

Permissions requested

Review permission requests and be wary of apps asking for unnecessary permissions.
